Properties of steel C45E (1.1191) Weldability: Due to the medium-high carbon content it can be welded with some precautions. Hardenability: It has a low hardenability in water or oil; fit for surface hardening that gives this steel grade a high hardness of the hardened shell.

C45E / 1.1191 Non-alloy quality special steel - equivalent ...

DIN 1.1191 / C45E Carbon Steel is a general carbon engineering steel which is characterized by good weldability, good machinability, and high strength and impact properties after quenched and tempered. DIN 1.1191 / C45E Carbon steel is widely used for vehicles, shafts, bushings, crankshafts, connecting rods and parts for the machine building industry and steel for axes, knives, hammers, etc.
